Dan

We need to talk. David sent me the same email. I am more about conversation and learning than making things disappear. Let's talk.

I agree, many of us would like to begin this positive change now.

(Unfortunately, I am away much of the next ten days but am happy to work with you and current and former students July 20-22, or week of July 27.)

Thank you!

Been thinking the exact same thing! Was talking last night both during and after the meeting with both current students and alum...

Here's an idea...NOW. Like right NOW.....like in the days after the Board meeting and all of the eloquent and heartfelt comments from current and former kids....

Let's tarp the ship with a camel colored tarp...and tarp or prime the back of the dugout...and get/coordinate/ (yes I am volunteering) to get kids to come and paint something like....it would be in time slots, with masks required and socially distancing etc....

Change is coming! We're open to change! We are the Change....you get the idea.

We could paint the tarps on the ground and worry about how to get them up there later...the dugout one is easy...the one on the front wall a little trickier...but doable.

Let's get the kids in NOW on the ground floor. This is ACTION...and student lead.

Thoughts?
